

- relay is normally open (no power through it)
- reed switch normally in off position until magnet is brought close to it.

